

We are partners in your care.

We hope you and your family will participate in the care provided by observing these rights and responsibilities.

Patients' Rights

We provide care that is respectful towards you.

Your doctors will inform you of the treatment outcome.

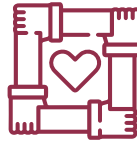

If you refuse any recommended treatment, you will be informed of the corresponding medical consequences.

You may request to transfer your care elsewhere, where you will bear responsibility for its process.

Your health information will be kept confidential in accordance with the Personal Data Protection Act (PDPA).

You will be informed of the estimated cost of treatments.

You may decline to participate or opt out of any clinical research or educational activity. This will not affect the care you receive.
